These students brought their whole school together with an Environmental Fun Day.

Medical Professions and Teacher Preparation Academy participated in the Keep Connecticut Cool contest that was judged on June 4, 2011. The contest is for Connecticut students in grades 4-12 to create climate change solutions in their schools and communities. The Medical Professions team consisted of a group of innovative students and their mentor Jan Haller.

The Medical Professions team:

- Held an Environmental Fun Day
- Collected money for the school's new green building by selling tickets to "Dress Green".
- Promoted an unplugged effort for teachers.
- Presented daily environmental facts during school announcements.

The achievements that the Medical Professions team made were innovative and fun. The Medical Professions and Teacher Preparation Academy team won the $500 Best Innovation prize from the Keep Connecticut Cool contest.

Keep Connecticut Cool is a program of the Institute for Sustainable Energy at Eastern Connecticut State University. You can find more information at www.keepconnecticutcool.org

The program is funded by Connecticut electric ratepayers through the Connecticut Energy Efficiency Fund.
